

Hey Wind Ensemble folks,

Due to the many lost days due to the bad weather (an in anticipation of more bad weather), I have done some scheduling of additional rehearsals. These are required, but please read this entire email to understand how these are being rolled. Please do your best to communicate unmovable conflicts (such as a game, meet, etc). Please remember, lessons, practices, and other regularly occurring activities can usually be missed once without serious issue. I am happy to communicate with a coach or teacher to provide support if needed.

Before you send me a protesting email, please remember that I'm asking for a small fraction of the time we have lost in class time due to snow days. I know many of you are very busy, but please make sure this is a priority so these rehearsals are effective. Too many people missing and it becomes non-productive. I realize this may cause you to have to shuffle some things around; please accept my apologies for the weather and thank you for your commitment to our collective musical efforts.

The most available days/times based on your survey results were: Tuesday afternoon, Thursday evening, and Sunday afternoon.

As of right now, we have one rehearsal. For each day of class we miss from here on, we will add another rehearsal in the order listed below. In other words, the first one is already for sure, and the ones after that will be "activated" in the order they appear should we miss any more class. I will notify you each time another rehearsal is activated.

1. Tuesday February 19 - 3:20 to 5:00
2. Thursday February 28 - 6 to 7:30
3. Sunday March 3 - 4 to 5:30
4. Tuesday March 5 - 3:20 to 5:00
5. Tuesday March 12 - 3:20 to 5:00

Thanks,

AM
